- Brexit and Regional Development in the UK
- 18.03.2021, 11:30-13:00

The seminar will discuss the implications of Brexit for regional development and regional policy in the United Kingdom. It will review research on the regional economic impact, and the policy implications of losing European Structural Funds. The seminar will also discuss the emerging picture on replacement UK policies, and the implications for the governance of post-Brexit regional policy.
